WOULD MOVE STATION

D. J. Griffler has returned from Winnipeg, where he and A. F. Grady had interviewed the general manager of the C.P.R. with regard to moving the station closer to town. Mr. Grady had gone on to Ottawa. It was considered probable that the company would move the station if the town secured the right-of-way, provided the yard room, and graded the roadbed.—Macleod Gazette.

With the Major out, and registration out, only one more "out" is needed to retire the side—Lethbridge Herald.

Doctors were encouraged when the girl who had been laughing for more than a week began to giggle. A high school lad can tell you she's normal.

DEATH OF HENRY ROBINSON

Henry Robinson, beloved husband of Mrs. J. A. Robinson, died at the family residence, Lundbreck, on Saturday last, March 21st. The remains were laid to rest in the Livingstone cemetery on Monday afternoon.

He is survived by one son, John, of the Smith Market Co. staff, Lundbreck.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Henry Robinson and son John, of Lundbreck, wish to thank their many friends for their kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to them in their recent bereavement.

LETHBRIDGE BOARD TRADE FORWARDS RESOLUTION

Following is the full resolution as forwarded to the Lethbridge trade board on the retail code matter:

"After careful consideration suggest you delay putting into operation the master code until a vote has been taken of retail merchants and same endorsed by at least 50 per cent of merchants affected and not then until you have definite control of shipments from mail order houses outside the province shipping goods into the province of Alberta."

In a longer resolution the Lethbridge branch of the R.M.A. suggested that codes be withheld until control of mail order business was gained. It also asked that Lethbridge merchants should have the right to nominate representatives to the permanent advisory board.—Lethbridge Herald.

Mr. J. E. Gillis was a visitor to Calgary this week and attended the reception to Bishop Carroll on Wednesday.

A treat is in store for you if you attend the April Shower Tea to be held in the United church basement on the afternoon of April 11th, from 3 to 6.

The city of Drumheller will spend five thousand dollars on the building of new cement sidewalks this year. The programme is for five years, with approximately the $5,000 to be spent each year.

KIMBERLEY TO TRAVEL BY A SPECIAL TRAIN

Arrangements have been made by the Kimberley Hockey Club to run a special train from Kimberley to Calgary on Saturday for the second game of the final western play-off series, Kimberley and Fort William.

The train will pick up passengers at all intermediate stations. The fare Blaimore to Calgary and return on this train will be $3.25, 1/2 fare ticket $1.70. Tickets good on the special going, but optional to travel return by regular or special train, time limit March 30th.

The train will leave Blaimore at 6.40 a.m., arriving at Macleod at 8.40. Twenty minutes stop at Macleod, giving time for breakfast. Arrive in Calgary 12.20 noon.

Returning, train will leave Calgary 2 p.m. on Sunday, the 29th, and reach Blaimore about 8 p.m.

Remember, be at the depot at 6.30 a.m. or earlier on Saturday.

FORMER HIGH-SCHOOL INSPECTOR PASSES

John Alfred Smith, aged 57, of Calgary, former high school inspector for Alberta, died at Victoria on Monday. He had been ill for the past three years.

Mr. Smith was very well known in the Crows' Nest Pass, where he had acted as inspector for quite a number of years.

Born in Coteswood, Ontario, of Scottish parents, the late Mr. Smith received his education in Harrison high school and Toronto University. He was predeceased by his wife five years ago. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Maitland McCarthy, Miss Margaret Smith, teacher in Olds high school, and Miss Nancy Smith, and one son, Ivan, of the provincial survey department branch in Canmore.

Mike remarked a few days ago that there is no better way of listening to good music in a concert hall than with the eyes shut. Perhaps so, and it wouldn't be a bad idea if some people tried closing the mouth as well.

The question was asked this week: "What would happen if the entire Social Credit government of Alberta should resign and run for re-election?" Would it be possible to return one of them? Why not give it a trial!

The board of railway commissioners have made public judgment, allowing the Crows' Nest Southern railway to discontinue passenger service on its line between Fernie and Newgate, B.C., on the ground insufficient traffic was available to warrant continuance in the existing service by gas-electric car.

Fortune smiled on Mr. and Mrs. David Gillespie on their 38th wedding anniversary, Wednesday, March 11, when Mrs. Gillespie was the lucky winner of a turkey raffled by the Red Cross at Frank. The same evening Mrs. Gillespie was the winner of a set of table napkins and table cloth raffled by the Pythian Sisters.—Colman Journal.

If the Aberhart Government would declare today that Social Credit is impossible and that the attempt to put it into effect here will now be dropped, Alberta would join with the rest of Canada in a steady surge forward, which is now being so strongly felt in most other parts of the Dominion. We have a young province, full of natural resources, capable of tremendous development. But we cannot develop while capital is afraid to invest, and while private initiative is stifled on every hand. Let's drop theories and get ahead with business.—Lethbridge Herald.

MIKE FITZEN SAVED DEER

Bernie may not have a Jack Miner—the friend of wild fowl—but we have a fan who is, to say the least, worthy of a medal from the humane society. He is Mike Fitzen, a small farmer, whose property lies just below the old G.N. tunnel. During the heavy snowfall a few weeks ago Mike was attracted by the noise of howling coyotes. He went to the spot and found a number of these animals had a deer down and were worrying it to death in the deep snow. He drove them off and found the deer torn about the neck and rump. He succeeded in getting the wounded animal on its feet and let it to his stable. Here Mike rendered first aid and in a couple of weeks' time the deer was as good as ever. The animal is a buck which through some freak of nature had no horns and had fallen an easy prey to the coyotes. Today he is as tame as a sheep and follows Mike and his family around like Mary's little lamb.—Fernie Free Press.

CANADIAN PACIFIC ANNOUNCES BARGAIN FARES TO COAST

Teachers and students on Easter holidays, and those taking early Spring vacations, will rejoice in the announcement of bargain fares to the Pacific Coast by Mr. G. A. Passmore, local Canadian Pacific agent.

Tickets will be on sale April 3rd to 11th, inclusive, with 21 days return limit, and will permit stop-over at Banff, Nelson and stations west. A feature of these fares will be the privilege of tourist or standard sleepers at slightly higher rate and usual berth charge. The special cent-a-mile fare good in coaches will also be available.

From present indications there will be a record travel and those contemplating the trip are advised to get in touch with Mr. Passmore as early as possible.

Malcolm Morrison, formerly of Coleman, now in business in Wetaskiwin, was a visitor to Coleman last week. He was accompanied by Frank Ahufay, a general merchant of Wetaskiwin, who was looking over prospects at Coleman.

Alberta residents who have tax arrears to make up will not be permitted to hold office in the municipality in which the taxes are owed, it was decided by the legislature on Monday, in discussing an amendment to the Municipal Districts Act.

The Pattinson Hardware at Coleman has taken over the dealers' agency for the Crows' Nest Pass of Majestic Radios, Frigidaire Corporation and Connor Electric Washing machines. S. W. Chahley, who formerly held the agencies, will be salesman under the new arrangement, covering The Pass towns for these products.

A note was received from Edmonton a few days ago, asking that in the event of Blaimore's notorious right-of-way, about two hundred yards east of the depot. Difficulty has been experienced in unloading or loading cars at the depot, owing to the station platform being some three feet lower than car floors. The new platform is on a level with the car floors.

A much needed device has just been erected here by the C.P.R., in the form of a substantial and properly built unloading platform for cars, etc. It is located on the company's right-of-way, about two hundred yards east of the depot. Difficulty has been experienced in unloading or loading cars at the depot, owing to the station platform being some three feet lower than car floors. The new platform is on a level with the car floors.

COLEMAN ENTERTAINS BANDITS

It was quick action and real courage on the part of Andy Oliva and his staff that foiled a planned attempt at hold-up and robbery at Coleman on Saturday night.

A gang of at least four, believed to be Coleman youths, approached the Co-Operative store just about closing time on Saturday night. The advance, a well known character in the person of George Kroesing, ordered 'em stuck up, then followed a free for all which resulted in Kroesing being floored, while his comrades dropped guns and made their getaway. Kroesing was rushed to the Coleman hospital for repairs, and was removed from that institution to the R.C.M.P. barracks at Blaimore, where he appeared before Magistrate Gresham on Monday morning and was remanded for eight days.

Police are hoping to round up the balance of the gang, who they believe will be found responsible for considerable of the robberies and other tricks perpetrated in Coleman during the past few months.

On the night previous, a Pontiac car was stolen from in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Morrison. It was later located up in Grafton town.

Several cars in Blaimore were ransacked and considerably damaged on Friday night. The parties in this connection are believed known, likely will be called upon to answer for their sport.

C.P.R. OFFERS SPECIAL EASTER FARES

Special reduced round trip fares for Easter travel was today announced by Mr. G. A. Passmore, our local Canadian Pacific agent.

Two classes of tickets will be available, single fare and one-tenth, good in coaches, and single fare and one-third, good in parlor or sleeping cars in addition to the usual seat or berth charge.

These tickets will be available to travel from April 9 until 2 p.m. April 13, and will bear a return limit until April 14.

To allow everyone a chance to join the special train to see the Kimberley Dynamiters and Prince Albert Miners play at Nelson, Cranbrook business houses closed for the whole day Wednesday, March 18th.

In a letter from J. R. Gresham at Whisky Gap, renewing his subscription, the latter says: "Things are beginning to pick up here after the winter. There are rumors of two gravelled roads coming through from the other side and new oil wells to be drilled on both sides of the line in the near future.—Okotoks Review.

At the curlers' annual banquet on Thursday night last, the Royal, Charbonnier and Morgan cups were presented to the winning rinks, the Royal to the Morgan rink, composed of L. L. Morgan, skip; R. Funagalli, R. C. Old and G. Picard. The Charbonnier cup to the Kerr rink, composed of W. Kerr, skip; Dr. G. B. Rose, G. E. Cruickshank and G. Thornton. The Morgan cup to the Congdon rink, composed of M. H. Congdon, skip; R. Rinaldi, H. Zak and Mike Giacomuzzi.

Billy Gates has a rare picture in his office. It was taken over in the Flathead valley and shows two deer lying dead on the ground, their horns interlocked in a death hold. The animals were magnificent specimens of the black tail variety and had evidently died from exhaustion after a struggle in which their horns became interlocked and they were unable to release them. Billy aptly remarked that it might be a good idea to send copies of the picture to France and Germany at the present time. They might see the light.—Fernie Free Press.

SOCIAL CREDIT GOVERNMENT PASSES FORTY-FIVE BILLS

Edmonton, March 26—Premier William Aberhart, members of his cabinet and supporters in the legislature looked on Wednesday while His Honor Lieutenant-Governor W. L. Walsh gave his assent to no fewer than forty-five bills which have been ratified by the legislature at this the first session of the eighth legislature in Alberta's history, and thus had the satisfaction of seeing placed on the statute books the first legislature ever passed by a Social Credit government.

Development of the tar-sand deposits at Fort McMurray in northern Alberta will begin immediately. Arrangements have been made by a private company to spend $1,500,000 in the next two years in erecting the necessary plant to extract petroleum and other by-products. The company is being financed by American capital.

A clause in the proposed amendments to the Alberta Liquor Control Act, which would have offered protection to stoolpigeons who would break the law to land a victim, has been repealed. When A. E. Marks, counsel for the temperance organizations, asked that beer parlors close at the same time as other businesses, objection was taken by E. O. Duke, S.C., Rocky Mountain; J. H. Unwin, S.C., Edson, and Herbert Ingre, S.C., Drumheller, who said that the laboring man should have the right to get their beer when their day's work was done. Various other proposals to amend the act are being fought out in the house.

China's First Girl Flyer

Will Astonish Her Own Country With Unusual Stunts

Acclaim awaited the return to China of the pretty 23-year-old Miss Ya Ching-lee, fresh from her flying exploits in the United States. She completed her course at the Boeing School of Aeronautics and plans to continue her work in her own country.

Miss Ya with reluctance told how she unwittingly came a member of the Caterpillar Club. Flying over San Francisco Bay with her instructor, she was told to take the machine into a dizzy barrel roll.

At a critical moment of the manoeuvre her safety belt came unfastened and in a second she was hurtling toward the water. Miss Ya's presence of mind came to her rescue and she pulled the rip cord of her parachute to float lightly to the bay whence she was picked up by a naval vessel.

The young aviatrix is also well versed in blind flying, having made a successful test flight from Oakland to Reno. She plans to tour her native land and demonstrate some of the tricks of the trade she picked up in America. Naturally she will be received open-mouthed by her people who have never seen these air stunts, not to mention one of their own girls at the control of what in pidgin English is a "ricksha" go topside.

New Type Of Camera Eye

Takes The Uncertainty Out Of Flashlight Photography

A new type of camera eye which takes the main uncertainty out of flashlight photography was announced by H. M. Biele, chief engineer of the Associated Press. It was worked out in the A.P. research and development laboratory.

The photoelectric cell, operating as a real eye, is set in the photographer's reflector behind the flash bulb. The cell sees the flash from behind.

It sees what no living eye can and what mechanical devices previously have missed, the building up of the flash. On the average, five thousandths of a second are required from the beginning of the burning flash until its light reaches a peak.

The photoelectric cell watches this rising light, and sets off an electromagnetic trigger which opens the camera shutter at precisely the thousandth of a second of brightest light.

In one thousand trials the new eye has never missed once.

Ancient Mine Discovered

A copper mine which is said to be 4,000 years old has been discovered in Kiepol, Poland. The works are in a wonderful state of preservation, and implements and tools have been found. Engravings of the planetary system and inscriptions decorate many of the galleries.

Progress Is Slow

Scientists in Germany and Italy have recently produced materials which are claimed to be good substitutes for wool. The production and consumption of these, however, made very slow progress and little or no effect on the world trade in natural wool has been noted.

An English church built in 1380 has a wall painting which shows bobbed hair.

Aid By Novel Method

Italians Sending Letters Home Engraved On Copper

Italians living in the United States have found a novel method of aiding the mother country in its battle against League of Nations sanctions.

A large number of letters, the writing engraved on paper-disk sheets of copper inserted in an ordinary envelope, have been received at Naples and in other Italian ports. The copper can be used in manufacture of munitions.

Wireless telephone service has been established between the Chinese cities of Canton and Hankow.

Governor-General's Medals

Bronze Medals For Competition In Saskatchewan Schools

The Hon. J. W. Estey, Minister of Education for Saskatchewan, announces that His Excellency, Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, has graciously signified his intention of following the practice set by his predecessors of donating each year a number of bronze medals for competition in the schools of Saskatchewan.

The recommendation of the minister respecting the distribution of the medals for the year ending June 30, 1936, has been approved by His Excellency and is as follows:

(a) Two medals to be awarded in each of the cities of Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, one to the boy and one to the girl from the collegiate institutes or technical schools therein, obtaining the highest standing at the complete grade twelve departmental examinations;

(b) Two medals to be awarded, one to the boy and one to the girl obtaining the highest standing of all the candidates at the complete grade twelve departmental examination from the collegiate institutes in the other cities of the province;

(c) One medal to be awarded to each of the four highest ranking boys and each of the four highest ranking girls at the complete grade twelve departmental examination from town schools;

Provided that not more than one boy and not more than one girl in any school in (c) may qualify for a medal;

(d) Two medals to be awarded, one to the boy and one to the girl, obtaining the highest standing at the complete grade twelve examination from village and rural schools in each of four zones into which the province is divided by the 3rd meridian line and the line between townships 24 and 25.

Rare Surgical Operation

Child Recovering After Misplaced Organs Adjusted By Surgeon

As the result of a rare surgical operation, Gary Roethler, 2½ years old, born with his internal organs in his left lung, was recovering at Oakland, California.

A surgeon, who requested his name be withheld, found to his astonishment the child had been breathing with only one lung since birth.

Gary's organs, including his stomach, spleen and intestines, were in his left lung. The lung was unable to expand and the heart also had been pushed over to the right side.

The surgeon carefully cut away three ribs and performed the delicate operation, using fascia or connective tissue from the mother's body.

Third Largest Grain Crop

Barley is Canada's third largest grain crop. It follows wheat and oats. A surgeon, who requested his name be withheld, found to his astonishment the child had been breathing with only one lung since birth.

Barley contains more starch and more crude fibre than wheat, but a bushel of barley weighs only 45 pounds as against 60 of wheat. The straw of wheat and of barley are similar in composition.

Tommy was listening to some of his sailor uncle's adventures. "You see, sarge, I always believe in fighting an enemy with his own weapons," said his uncle.

"Really?" gasped Tommy. "How long does it take you to sting a wasp?"

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

MARCH 29

JESUS EXPLAINS THE KINGDOM

Golden text: They shall come from the east and west, and from the north and south, and shall sit down in the Kingdom of God, Luke 13:29.

Devotional reading: Isaiah 62:1-7.

Explanations and Comments

The Expansive Power of the Kingdom. Luke 13:18. He said therefore: "this therefore" connects the parable with the healing on the Sabbath, just narrated by Luke, or at least with verse 10, the teaching in the synagogue. "Unto what is the kingdom of God like?" Jesus questioned, "and whereunto shall I liken it?" "It is like unto a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his own garden." In the interpretation of the parable, it is Israel, God's own people, who are the mustard seed. "And it grew, and became a tree." Ordinarily, but-terflies are not very large, but in the northern part of New Guinea there are giant butterflies whose wings measure eleven and a half feet in expanse, and are hunted by the natives with bow and arrow; so the mustard plant is not usually of great size, but in Palestine it sometimes attains a height of ten or twelve feet. "And the birds of the heaven lodged in the branches thereof."

The Pervasive Influence of the Kingdom. Luke 13:20. Next Jesus compared the kingdom to leaven, which a woman hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened. The word leaven is derived from the French lever, to raise; it means anything which causes fermentation, especially a portion of fermenting dough. A measure contained nearly a peck and a half (Revised Version), and three measures was the usual amount for one baking, Gen. 18:6. "Till it was all leavened." See First Corinthians 5:6; Galatians 5:9. "The thoroughness of the leaven's work is most consolatory. The word of the Kingdom will not fall till the whole world is leavened by it. There is a consummation, a victory, where God shall be all in all." (R. F. A. Horton).

The Parable Warning Against False Hopes. Luke 13:22-30. Jesus continued on his way to Jerusalem, preaching as he went in the cities and villages which he passed. "Lord, are there few that are saved?" someone questioned him on that journey. Evidently the questioner was sure of his own salvation simply because he was a Jew, and expected Jesus to answer that Israel, and Israel only, would be saved.

Jesus did not answer the question, but warned the man against vain confidence, made him look to himself, and think about his own entrance into the Kingdom rather than speculate about the fate of others. "Strive to enter in by the narrow door; for many, I say unto you, shall seek to enter in, and shall not be able." Literally, agonize, strain every nerve of.

Temporary Permanency

Two permanent waves a year, properly applied, may be had without injury to the hair or scalp, say the doctors. No wonder foreigners have such a difficult time understanding our language. Here they are told that if a wave is to be "permanent," women must have it done twice a year!

Yields Huge Profit

British Broadcasting Company Has Surplus After Expenses Paid

Of every £250 paid by listeners in Britain for radio licenses only $1.30 is spent on the broadcasting service. The rest goes to the treasury, the post-office and the income tax collector.

This fact is revealed in the B.B.C.'s report for 1935, just issued. It contains, for the first time, comprehensive details of its vast expenditure.

Of the $18,400,000 received in license fees the post-office and treasury took $8,205,000. B.B.C. publications showed a surprising rise in profits of $2,107,880.

This may seem an enormous sum just for putting music and talks on the air, but Sir John Reith, the governor, found themselves at the end of the year with a balance of only $154,585 to carry forward. Over the whole year the B.B.C. handed to charities the record sum $557,340.

May Transpose Muscles

Successful Results To Correct Cross-Eyes Are Reported

Scientists surveyed the results of more than a year of experimentation and held forth definite hope that surgeons some day may be able to transpose muscles of the human eye and correct permanently such disorders as cross-eyes, eye paralysis and other optical ailments.

Success of laboratory experiments of dogs and cats were transposed to man, as was announced by Dr. J. M. D. Olmstead, professor of physiology at University of California.

Dr. Olmstead told how, in his experiments, strong eye muscles of dogs and cats were transposed to assume the functions of weakened muscles whose failure to function properly caused a variety of eye disorders.

An old country woman going into a large town saw, for the first time, an electric tram.

"Well," she said, in her amazement, "I've seen 'em worked by horses, and I've seen 'em run by engines, but I never seen 'em druv by a clothes-prop before."

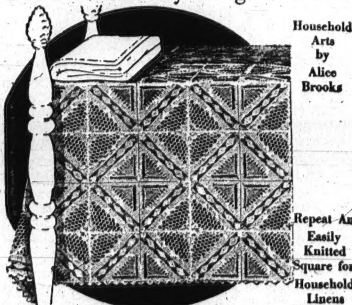

"Have you any complaints to make?" asked the Prison Governor. "Yes," replied the prisoner, "the prison walls are not built to scale."

A Franciscan missionary was the first to mention petroleum in America, the instance being a letter published in 1532. 2143

Repeat An Easily Knitted Square for Household Linens

PATTERN 5557

Don't long for "hairloms"—make them yourself! All you have to do is to knit a simple square, whose pattern you learn by heart in almost no time. They'll soon be rolling off your needles at a great rate, for you use string for these, and string knits up very quickly. When you've made a quantity laid by, join them for a handsome bedspread, dinner or tea cloth, scarf or pillow. Only four squares are needed to complete the main motif of this design.

In pattern 5557 you will find complete instructions for making the square shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 20 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermott Ave. E., Winnipeg.

For King George Memorial

Suggestions Given To Meeting By Archbishop Of Canterbury
A memorial to King George should take the form of a statue of his late majesty in London and a philanthropic scheme which would benefit the whole country.

This decision was reached at an influential meeting at the Mansion House, London, convened by the lord mayor at the request of Prime Minister Baldwin. The Archbishop of Canterbury proposed the memorial should take such a form.

HOW'S YOUR STOMACH?

YOU lose vital nerve force if you allow your stomach to distress you. Acid stomach, indigestion, gas or belchings and "coliciveness" cause the blood to be poisoned and will eventually destroy health and nerve force. This is what Clarence House of 51 Main St., St. Catharines, Ont., said. "I had no pep, had to force myself to eat, and was feeling a bit lousy. I was suffering from indigestion and heartburn. I had seen Golden Malt Digestive and it looked like a good idea. I bought a bottle and took it. The 'digestive' helped to drive away the stomach distress and I felt like a different man. Now also, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00 and $1.35."

FLEMING'S FOLLY

—BY—
LAWRENCE A. KEATING

SYNOPSIS

The story opens with Link Fleming addressing a meeting of Boone County cattlemen, called together with the object of forming an irrigation company.

Roper Kilgo, the boss of the Rawhide and nearby ranges, who seems to approve the plan, but was really opposed to it, had forced Soak Torrey, a davelet, mining engineer, whom Kilgo knew would be called upon to give his expert opinion in favor of the scheme, to reverse his earlier endorsement, and declare that irrigation in Boone county so far as Fleming's plan was concerned was only a new-fangled way to waste money.

The meeting terminates, but Buzz Hamilton and his sister, Helen, Link and Kilgo stay behind and Helen asks Fleming questions about his irrigation plan. This angers Buzz, who accuses Fleming of trying to influence his sister and, as he asserts, ruin his "spread". Buzz shoots at Fleming in an uncontrollable fit of anger, but Buster Townsend, Link's foreman, is shot in the stomach, and Fleming is unharmed. Buzz is arrested and sentenced to three years' imprisonment.

Helen and Fleming form a partnership to provide irrigation for their own properties.

Fleming goes home and studies the plans drawn by Torrey to learn whether they could be adapted to a smaller scheme suitable for his and Helen's land, and is satisfied it could be done. Feeling cold, he lights the fire and there is an explosion that wrecks the house, burns it and the plans and renders Link unconscious. He is rescued from the blaze by an employee.

Helen and Link ride to Rawhide for supplies and to obtain funds to carry out the dam project. They meet Roper, who greets Helen and offers to shop with her. Link goes to see the Sheriff, who tells him Buzz Hamilton has been paroled and would arrive on the incoming stage, but that he thinks Link has made a mistake in getting Buzz released. (Now On With The Story)

A muscle quirked in Hamilton's cheek as again he failed to hold the rancher's steady gaze and shifted with some uneasiness in his chair. He looked at beefy Roper, who sat on his right, thence at tall, red-headed Jackpot Mell. Following his eyes, Link felt keen apprehension that things were going all wrong—for Buzz had fallen among the very companions he should have avoided. "Wal, Link," Kilgo boomed boisterously. "I hear yore borrowed up to yore neck for that crazy irrigation scheme. Otto Pieper turned yuh down, o' course?"

"The answer came in the form of question, Fleming summoned a careless grin. 'If yuh know, Roper, yuh ask me?'"

"Course he turned yuh down," growled the lynx-eyed Mell. "So yore busted, eh, Fleming?" Busted, that's what he jibed in grating tones. "That's tough, ain't it, boys? It's yuh—too—bad!"

Fleming's eyes hardened. "Well, Jackpot," he returned in a controlled tone, "I'd sure know better than to ask yore for money if I did need it."

"If yuh did need it? Say, if yuh don't need it, I'm a cross-eyed buzzard!"

"Then it might interest yuh to know," Link retorted crisply, "that I don't need money right now."

Mell started, his face coloring with wrath. For the nuance of his own speech had been twisted to make him a "cross-eyed buzzard."

"Yuh callin' me names?" he rasped darkly.

"The Star Loop owner checked resentful anger that welled up his throat, his face hot. 'I called yuh nothin'.' Turning to Buzz, he pointed. 'That's what yuh are, a buzzard. I'll be on yore way, oldtimer? Helen will be tickled when yuh slide off yore hoss an' grab her in yore arms!'"

The taut silence that answered him was disconcerting. Of a sudden Hamilton sent his chair scraping backward as he rose. The prison pallor of his haggard countenance seemed to assume a bluish shade against fire flashing in the newcomer's eyes. His whole thin frame trembled with rage that that fount of expression and he shook a skinny fist close under Fleming's nose.

"I'm onto yore game, yow low-down skunk!" he cried in a quavering voice of almost maniacal fury. "I'm onto yore tricks, getting me paroled. Talkin' my sister into throwin' away our Triple H on that lousy irrigation scheme only a fool'd take on. I'm onto yow, Fleming! And by Gawd, I won't stand for it. Savvy that?"

The Star Loop owner stepped back, his jaw dropping in genuine amazement. "What are yow talkin' about, Buzz?" he demanded. "Why,

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it—in comparison with "Aspirin."

We say this because, before the discovery of "Aspirin," most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of "Aspirin" largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken "Aspirin" year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct. Remember, this: "Aspirin" is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains... and safe for the average person to take regularly.

"Aspirin" Tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

say, I—" He became conscious of the smell of whiskey, raw whiskey and plenty of it, and he scowled, scrutinizing the man's countenanced face.

Roper Kilgo and his cronies had deliberately, maliciously studied Buzz with misanthropy about the Silver Creek project. Why? The answer came instantly. The florid Kilgo was eaten with apprehension when Link, after all, made a success of the irrigation project on which Roper had betrayed him at that Trailhead Hotel meeting last fall—and use the very land Kilgo had lost in a poker game to prove what would be done.

Also, there was Roper's attentiveness to Helen Hamilton. His clumsy compliments, his eyes following her every movement with an absorbed relish Link did not like to see. Before her return from Ohio, Roper considered himself the only contender of importance for her hand. Now—and the thought made Link's pulse speed—she seemed to favor him.

"Got me paroled to make a hit with Helen—yuh know darned well I ain't allowed to manage the spread!" Eyes aflame, Buzz advanced threateningly. "While yuh keep me from my rights, yuh soft soap my sister to beat us out of every thing we own. By God," he cried, "I'll kill yuh!"

With quickness astonishing in one of his prison-vorn appearance, the madman hurried himself forward, jabbing with open hands to choke his victim.

Fleming was caught off guard. Hard fingers sank cruelly into the flesh of his neck. Instinct made him seek the sixpence in his hip; but he desisted, and with both strong hands tore away the other's fingers.

His grasp slid to Buzz's wrists and with a quick, powerful wrench he sent him staggering. Hamilton slipped, fell, and went crashing into chairs grouped around a vacant card table.

Roper Kilgo, Jackpot Mell, and several other men stiffened angrily. The two cronies stood alert to match their Colts, glaring. "Let that kid alone!" snarled Mell, a dangerous light in his beady eyes.

Link stood panting, feeling of his neck. He did not fear their forty-fives despite the saloon owner's reputation as a killer. His gaze travelled over the trio, took in three or four other tense patrons of the Half Moon, and roved to Gus, the pink-faced bartender, whose china-blue eyes were dilated in astonishment.

Fleming strode to Hamilton and helped him to his feet. "I'm shore sorry, Buzz," he said in a low, vibrant tone. "The fear is yow got me all wrong. Silver Creek dam is going to help yore spread as much as mine. Helen isn't in danger from yow. Yow aren't either."

The other jerked "I'mself free. He panted wheezingly while he reached for a whiskey bottle and poured a stiff drink. Link's impulse was to stop him, but such a move would be certain to invite fresh wrath. He stood motionless with indecision.

Roper planted himself squarely before Fleming. "I advise yuh to claim outa here now, yuh. Guess yow'll claim yuh didn't know I figured to get Buzz pardoned so he'd have his legal rights? S'pose yuh didn't hurry up and head me off while yow make that don't do Buzz no good at all?"

The Star Loop owner's jaw dropped. "Yow get Buzz pardoned?" Roper put his arm around Hamilton's shoulders in a brotherly gesture. "Think I'll stand by idle while yuh work yore game on a helpless gal? I was goin' to fix it with the Governor so's Buzz could be here to protect his property!"

Link stiffened. "Helen Hamilton came in with me of her own free will. There's no game being worked, and yow know it. That dam is going to make every other thing in Boone County look like thirty cents—yours included, Kilgo!"

His eye narrowed. "Yeah? Let me tell yuh somethin'. Heavy rains lately have darned near flooded the cut-off. If that water comes on yow spread, I'll sue yuh for damages!"

This was indeed a possibility, of which Link was uneasily aware. It was part of his reason for being anxious to complete the dam within the next two or three days.

"It's a crazy scheme," scoffed Jackpot Mell. "Trying to irrigate no-good land! Fleming's Folly—yeah, that's a good name. Not a word in Boone County believes in it. How about yow, Beth?" he demanded of Howland, the veteran Texas trail driver. "Is Fleming's Folly gonna turn out?"

"Wal, no, I don't reckon 'tis," Howland replied candidly.

"Yow, Benson?" Mat scratched his ear. "Don't like to discourage yuh, Link, but it shore looks to me like yore plumb loco, pounin' all yore money in a looney proposition like that."

Other men expressed their lack of faith, but Fleming had heard all this so often before that he paid little heed. His eyes were on young Hamilton, gulping down drink after drink of whiskey. Somehow he had to get the youth away, take him home.

"Buzz," he suggested at last, "let's get going. Yow've been poisoned against me without hearin' my proposition. I've got to have yow surprised Helen. She's thought about yow every hour in the day, Buzz," he went on in a low tone. "Prayed for yow every night. She's plumb anxious to see yow, son!"

Hamilton's face, in the momentary stage by liquor, Hamilton seemed to be fighting back tears. Fear of shaming himself before all these men prompted him to move slowly toward the swinging door. Link waited until he thrust them aside, then the rancher sent a cold, defiant look around the circle of faces and started after.

As they stepped onto the brief stoop that fronted the Half Moon, swift-thudding hoofs in velvet dust made both men look up. Surprise swept over Fleming's face as he saw Helen, her Stetson tugging at its chin strap about her graceful neck, her brown hair flying in the breeze, haul her lathered pinto to its propitious stop in a skidding stop, and fling excitedly from the saddle.

"Link!" she wailed, running toward him. "Oh, our eight hundred dollars—I've been robbed!" (To Be Continued)

Microphone Oratory

Radio Has Placed New Demand On Speech Makers

The radio, as every one knows, has placed a new demand upon political speakers. The old-fashioned campaign oration no longer will do. In its place must come the kind of talk which is calculated not to stir up mass excitement but to convince men and women in their homes. To do that two things are required. One is the right manner, which is to say, the right use of voice and inflection. The other is the right content and organization of the speech itself.

Of the two the manner is probably the easier to acquire. It can be learned if the speaker is willing to subject himself to the discipline of rehearsal and criticism. The content presents the harder problem. Men who for many years have been accustomed to addressing public meetings cannot easily abandon the technique of crowd appeal as they have learned it.

Spellingbinding requires, more than anything else, a proper spacing of climaxes, building up to a super-climax at the end. What came between the high spots was of relatively small importance. (That is why the reading of such speeches is generally disappointing. The reader marvels that anything so thin and loosely constructed could have proved effective.)

The radio speaker has to take a different line. He must prepare an address—it could almost be called an essay—which will march smoothly and steadily from beginning to end. It has its climaxes, but they are relatively quiet ones, and, of course, cannot depend for their success upon excitement induced in the listeners by waving arms, flashing eyes, or cheering.—Chicago Tribune.

Rocket Releases Parachute With Metal Box Carrying Letters

Rocket releases are being organized in all leading countries of the world according to the journal of the British Interplanetary Society, which has just been published in London. American and British societies are well known. Germany has a thousand members; Austria has a regular rocket mail service which passes over a high mountain between Roeh Troch and Semirach. The rockets shot off at an angle of 45 degrees, let fall, when at their greatest height, a parachute carrying a metal box containing 200 to 300 letters. This novel postal service has its own postage stamps. From Calcutta, India, a rocketeer reports a rocket shot by him over the Damodar River containing 200 letters and two live birds.—The first successful transportation by rocket of living things.

Little Helps For This Week

I will lift up my eyes unto the hills from when cometh my help. Psalm 121:1.

I look to Thee in vain need, And never look in vain; I feel Thy touch Eternal Love, And all is well again; The thought of Thee is mightier far Than sin and pain and sorrow are.

How can you live sweetly amid the vexations, the irritating things, the multitude of little worries and frets that lie all along your way and which you cannot evade? You cannot at present change your surroundings. Whatever kind of life you are to live must be lived amid the experiences in which you are now moving. Here you must win your victories or face your defeats. No restlessness or discontent can change your lot. Others may live among different surroundings, but here you are. If you make up your mind to accept what you cannot alter, you can live a beautiful life in the midst of your present circumstances by striving to realize a state of inward happiness independent of them.

Manchoukuo Best Place To View Eclipse In June

Manchoukuo is making a bid for those who wish to view the 1936 eclipse. "Manchoukuo is the best place in the world from which to view the total eclipse visible on June 19," says Dr. Isami Yamamoto, the famous astronomical expert of Kyoto Imperial University. According to the professor the line of the eclipse will rise from the Mediterranean Sea and advance into Siberia, passing through part of Turkey to the Caucasus and Central Asia, and thence to Lake Baikal along the Siberian railway line. Then it will again advance into Siberia along the Amur river and disappear in the Northern Pacific horizon, passing over Hokkaido. The eclipse will be visible for about two minutes and 20 seconds. The government will assist visitors.

"See here," said the Indian inspector, "it is a violation of the law, to have more than one wife, and the law must be obeyed. When you get back home you tell all of your wives, except one, that they can no longer look upon you as your husband."

"You tell 'em," suggested the Indian, after a moment's reflection. "You can now sit comfortably in a chair at home and chat to a friend in Australia without raising your voice," says a writer. In fact, all you have to raise is the money.

DOES HIS PART

Ex-Governor Francis, of Missouri, is quoted as having said: "Each year the local paper gives from $500 to $1,000 in free lines to the community in which it is located. No other agent can or will do this. The editor, in proportion to his means, does more for his own town than any other ten men, and in all fairness he ought to be supported, not because you like him or admire his writings, but because the local paper is the best investment a community can make. Today the editors of the local papers do the most for the least money of any people on earth." Having shot down more enemy aircraft and experienced more aerial combat than any other pilot of any nationality, living or dead, Wing Commander Raymond Collishaw is Canada's forgotten hero.

May soon have a baton and become the first Canadian made Air Marshal in the R. A. F.

So modest that when he visits Canada now he travels in disguise and only a fraction of his courageous exploits are known. He is the true d'Artagnan of British wings and still flies in the British army in the King's uniform.

Went to sea as a boy and at eighteen was close to the South Pole, navigator of Scott's ill-fated Antarctic expedition. When war broke out he forgot the sea and took to the air where he became the greatest combat pilot in the silent service. He was third only to Bishop and Fonck amongst Allied aces and was never scratched although shot down three times. His guns destroyed twenty-nine craft in two months and in 1918 his all-Canadian 203rd Squadron shot down 203 enemy craft.

Has held aerial duels in Persia, Mesopotamia and led the air fleet against the Arabs in the Holy Land in 1920. He was born in Nanaimo, B. C., in 1895 and early developed uncanny marksmanship.

Rejection slips mean nothing in the life of Mase de la Roche of Jalna fame and Canada's first ranking woman novelist.

Two years after her first story illuminated the high-brow pages of the Atlantic Monthly, she won that publication a $10,000 plum for the best "first novel" submitted in the year.

She says it "was the love-letter the editor wrote me."

She was art's loss and literature's gain as she wanted to be an illustrator and still uses a drawing board belatedly as her knee for a writing desk.

Her ancestry is English, Irish and French—with realists predominating and at least one of them guillotined during the French Revolution. Mase de la Roche is of Toronto stock and her novels reflect early experiences on a quiet shores-and-fruit farm on the lakes of Lake Ontario and Whiteoaks is something of a reincarnation of lonely childhood without brothers and sisters.

In tall, willowy, hat-throwing hair, charm and a lot of editors in chains. She likes country life and folks, horses and dogs, Toronto in Winter and children. She adopted two.

Dislikes telephones, department stores, elevators and comic strips. Loves flags, wavers, lecturers and "helpful hints." has only one strong conviction. It is wrong to make people unhappy.

Literary opinion is divided as to whether her Whiteoaks series will seriously rival Tennyson's Brook.

Magistrate: "Speeding, eh? How many times have you been before me?"
Speeder: "Never, yer honor. I've tried to pass you on the road once or twice, but my bus will do only fifty-five."

She: "You devil. I'll bet you had the prettiest nurse on the floor?"
He: "Don't be a dupe. I was too sick to wrestle."

Theodore: "That man wants me to lend him some money. Do you know anything about him?"
John: "Sure, I know him as well as I know you. Don't lend him a cent, old man."

LIBERTY MAGAZINE'S CANADIAN HALL OF FAME No. 19

"All right gentlemen," says Major General J. H. MacLellan, chief of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, "they were last seen east of the Arctic River; go and get your man."

The urge to get your man in a universally attached to the R. C. M. P. and is a throw-back to the war time phrase used by the chief commissioner when he used to look for a and carried a sniper's rifle instead of a cane. They still tell it in France that General MacLellan, when he led the Twelfth Brigade, set an all-time record for brass hats. He refused to stay in his safe dugout and directed the troops and had an idea that a commander's place was in the line with his men.

Now he has a desk in a shabby little office over a department store in Ottawa but soon he will have headquarters in a new $1,500,000 building. When he moves to his new quarters he will take with him a map with little red flags. Those flags mark the far-flung outposts of the R. C. M. P., one of them within eleven degrees of the North Pole.

A fine horseman, immediately after his appointment by Premier Bennett he promulgated the dictum that every mountie must be able to ride. He rounded up the desk-warriors and sent them to Regina to suffer equitation and eat their meals standing up.

Today his men have shut down the rum runners in the Maritimes and the dope peddlers of the central provinces; they have checked the drug smugglers on the Pacific coast and the fur stealers of the Northwest.

Major General MacLellan was born in Port Perry, Ontario, has an Irish ancestry, a charming wife and six athletic children.

In the spring of 1846, fifty-five vessels, aggregating 4,397 tons and carrying 1,545 men, prosecuted the seal fishery in Newfoundland, as compared with eight ships in 1936 of a tonnage of around 5,000, and crewed by about 1,300 men.

Maid: "Oh, Miss Holman, this is terrible! I banged down the window while you were undressing and broke something!"

Blonde: "What did you break, a window pane?"

Maid: "No—a man's neck."

'ISN'T IT TEA'

Why Not a Holiday?

"Get away from your work and take a holiday" is a prescription frequently handed out by members of the medical profession to the jaded city office worker. The advice is usually based on the prediction that the eternal grind of routine work day in and day out, that change of scenery and month after month has impaired the nerves and that week after week and new activities is all that is required to steady the nerves and tone up the flagging system.

Excellent advice unquestionably, but surely as applicable to the man and the woman on the farm and to the small town or village merchant or worker as to the denizens of the larger centres.

As a matter of fact the former-to-day are probably in greater need of the recuperative benefits of change of scene than are the latter for the very good reason that no one has sustained a continuous barrage of hard knocks and trying conditions more than the man on the land and his family who have withstood a tremendous and prolonged siege against the combined forces of economic and agricultural depression.

The farmer and his wife and the occupants of the small towns and villages have been the shock troops of a terrific encounter with overwhelming forces for a long period. They have been the closest to the conflict and have borne the brunt of the fray for a term of weary years.

No one can undergo such a lengthy strain without feeling some deleterious effects on the nervous system and the physical frame and it would be more than surprising if tempers have not become frayed and health, if not visibly impaired, at least threatened under such an ordeal.

Such being the case, it is not at all amiss to suggest that the time has come when the workers on the prairies should plan to take a well earned holiday this summer, even if it has to be limited to a week. True, it may be difficult to arrange for the necessary care for livestock and other things which must be provided for in the absence of the family from home, but such obstacles can usually be overcome with a little ingenuity and planning.

Objection might also be raised that it costs money to go away on a vacation and that there is so little of this commodity available as a result of the pressure of economic conditions of the past few years. Perfectly true, but here again the difficulty is not insuperable, except perhaps in extreme cases for, under present day circumstances it is possible to contrive a holiday with very little expense.

For the majority of prairie residents the conveyance problem is already solved. There are few who do not either own or can get the use of a car or truck, even though it may be of ancient vintage; and where these are not available there is at least a wagon and team.

A car and a tent or a truck or wagon and tarpaulin available, the twin problems of transport and temporary housing are solved. As for the question of sustenance this also is not difficult of solution on the prairies in the summer time. Some commodities can be carried along on the trip and others can be procured from small town merchants and farm houses at not greater cost than if they were purchased at home.

About the only additional expense of such a holiday trip is the cost of gasoline and oil, if auto or truck is used, and this can be kept within reasonable limits if the vacationist curbs the temptation to travel long distances and burn up road mileage at great speed. One does not have to go far from home to find new and interesting things and the leisurely pace is the one that affords the most beneficial results.

Such a holiday should yield dividends in improved mental and bodily health and it may be made to give educational returns to all members of the participating family. The alert vacationist will inevitably pick up some idea on such a tour which he can put to practical use on his return home. Contact with new minds will invariably result in broadening the outlook on life and incidents and scenes will be absorbed and remembered later. Incidentally, and as an aside, a camera, if one is available, may be made a valuable adjunct to a vacation trip.

Much more might be said about the virtues and values of a holiday. Suffice it to say that the man and his family who take a little time off for a change of scene and use the time sensibly will reap dividends that cannot be estimated in dollars and cents.

Early planning, too, has its advantages. Apart from the pleasure of anticipation it will provide, planning ahead will ensure proper provision against contingencies and enable the adventure to be taken with peace of mind, an important concomitant of a real vacation.

Storm Upsets Salvage Scow

Within an hour of its destination, a scow, man loaded by heavy incrustations of ice, turned turtle in Hecate Strait, off the coast of British Columbia, and dumped into the sea $3,600 worth of machinery which had been salvaged at considerable expense from a disused sawmill at Queen Charlotte city. The scow, recently overhauled at a cost of several hundred dollars, was being towed by the power-tug Daily when a strong northeast squall proved too much for it.

NEVER TOO YOUNG TO LEARN

Speed Limit Of Planes

Only 575 Miles An Hour With Present Wing Design

With the present design of wings, airplanes will be limited to a speed of about 575 miles an hour, Dr. George W. Lewis, director of research of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, showed at a special meeting of the Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences that was held in the New York Museum of Science and Industry in Rockefeller Center. At this speed Dr. Lewis said—and he showed motion pictures to prove the point—the sustaining flow of air over the top of the wing suddenly breaks away in a "shock wave" and the airplane loses all its lift.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food does not digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Bile flows into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink. A more bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Bile makes and gives you the bile flow freely. They do the work of bile and have no oil or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Satisfaction or your money back.

Killed By Peculiar Accident

Visitor To Australia Victim Of Vicious Shell Fish

Stung by the beautiful but vicious cone shell of the coral reefs, a visitor to the Barrier Reef, on the Queensland Coast of Australia, has died in agony. He is the first white person to meet death in this way. The victim picked up a live specimen of the shellfish, which is covered with a thin skin. Holding it in his hand, he commenced to scrape it with a knife, when it thrust out its barbed spike and punctured his palm. Some time later he complained that his eye-eying was failing. Subsequently he lapsed into a coma and exhibited all the symptoms of snake bite. He was rushed to the mainland, but died soon afterwards.

Koh-i-Noor Taken From Buckingham Palace For Regular Cleaning

The Koh-i-Noor, the most famous diamond in the world, has just had its annual bath. A dapper little man, who moved up to Buckingham Palace in London. Five minutes later he emerged with two plainclothes policemen. They jumped into the waiting taxi and drove off to Commercial Road E. There the famous jewel was placed in the hands of one of the greatest experts in the washing and polishing of diamonds. Later in the same day the Koh-i-Noor was taken back to its safe near the Queen's bedroom.

Men Had Swift Ride

Australians Sure Stream-Line Train Could Not Compete With Whale

Riding on a stream-lined train has nothing on that at the end of a rope attached to an angry whale. This is the opinion of W. Edwards and J. Williams, fishermen of Geraldton, Australia. While they were fishing near Goff's Harbor the anchor of their launch fouled a large whale, which started off at about a mile a minute, both men holding grimly to the madly-careening craft. Fearing that the whale might give any second and was the boat with it, Edward worked forward and cut the rope, freeing the boat.

Cost Of Living

Slight Decline Is Reported By Bureau Of Statistics

The Canadian cost of living index, on the basis 1926 equals 100, declined from 80.7 in January to 80.4 in February, as a result of a moderate recession in food prices, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. The food index was 72.9 against 73.9 in January. Increases in eggs, butter, lard and pork were more than offset by declines in all other meats and potatoes. Coal and coke prices were slightly higher, as were also those for gasoline.

New Health Body At Work

Campaign For The Universal Pastoralization Of Milk

For a number of years now the Social Hygiene Council, indefatigably led by Dr. Gordon Bates as general director, has been performing a national service in this country that is beyond all praise. Feeling the need, however, of giving the organization a still wider scope, it has been reorganized during the past few weeks and now stands forth as the Health League of Canada. Fortunately Dr. Bates still remains as general director, but the presidency has been conferred upon the Honorable Mr. Justice Riddell of Toronto.

Powerful support was given to the re-organization by the presence of the Governor-General, Lord Tweedsmuir, who urged that there should be active co-operation between public and health authorities and that every individual should give greater attention to public health in the future than in the past. With a new government and a new minister of health at Ottawa this renewed stimulus to public interest should be alike a help and an inspiration.

Dr. Bates has announced as one of the first objectives of the new body a national campaign for the universal pasteurization of milk that has just been launched. Pasteurization has to overcome the same kind of prejudices as vaccination, for instance, had to do at one time; plus the opposition of those who conceive it to be contrary to their commercial interests. The need for educational propaganda is clearly indicated and this is what is being supplied. Sooner or later—sooner, rather than later, it is to be hoped—the campaign, which bears fruit from which the people of Canada will reap the benefits—Quebec Chronicle-Telegram.

Island Loses Its Queen

Small But Fearless Ruler Of Tory Island Is Dead

With the death of Mary Herrierty, only three feet high but proud and fearless, a wild, desolate island in the Donegal Coast, Irish Free State, has lost its ruling "queen" and most dominant personality.

On Tory Island, where customs have not changed for centuries, it was the word of Mary Herrierty that went as law. The tallest, strongest man on the island did not dare refuse her bidding.

Her little domain was but one of many similar island "kingdoms" along the coast of Ireland; islands where Gaelic is spoken rather than English, and where the women still wear the shawl and old Irish stock cloak.

Many of these islanders have for generations elected a woman rather than a man as their chief. The Claddagh people on the Galway coast have always elected a "queen" and man has had to "rule" over the people there.

New To Science

Australian University Has Three Animals From New Guinea

Three specimens of animals brought from an island off the north-west coast of New Guinea to Professor Wood Jones, of Melbourne (Australia) University, had to be introduced to science. Two are only carcasses but the third, a lively ball of white fur, keeps itself dominantly alive on banana, passion-fruit, biscuits, milk and honey, and an occasional paw-paw or carrot. It is a small marsupial, with some slight similarity to a rare species in the tropical part of Australia.

Although tuberculosis is being fought valiantly and the death rate is lower, the disease is considered still the greatest public health problem of the country.

So minute are tobacco seeds that a handful will furnish enough plants for an acre of ground.

Famous Underground Depot

Used By Escaping Negro Slaves During Civil War

History's famous "underground railroad" has lost its "depot." This was a three story brick building in Cincinnati used before and after the civil war in aiding the escape of Negro slaves. After crossing the Ohio river the fugitives made their way through a tunnel to this building.

The structure, more than 100 years old, is now being demolished to make way for a gasoline station.

The foundation wall of the building carries evidences of a walled over passage 6 feet high and 4 feet wide. Similar indications of an underground passageway are apparent on the foundation walls of several of the other buildings for three blocks west of the old brick building.

Oldtimers insist the tunnels were built by slaves who escaped from southern plantations. They were usually concealed beneath loads and transported in wagons.

The term "underground railroad," supposedly, resulted from the tunnel to the old brick building. There opponents of slavery supplied the runaways with food and clothing.

In the basement of the building is a space, 20 feet long and 10 feet wide, filled entirely with rock. Investigators have been unable to learn the significance of the rock. Old residents of the 6th street commission district, where the building is situated, hope the raising of the building will clear up the mystery.

SELECTED RECIPES

CHERRY ROLL

Temperature: 425 degrees F. Time: 25 minutes.

1 cup "Crown Brand" Corn Syrup
1 cup jar cherries (canned)
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup boiling water
1 tablespoon butter
Tea biscuit batter

Drain cherries and pour juice in a saucepan. Add the water, sugar and "Crown Brand" Corn Syrup. Boil 5 minutes. While the syrup is boiling make an ordinary tea biscuit batter and roll it out in oblong roll. Spread the cherries over the dough; sprinkle with cinnamon, dot with butter and roll up like jelly roll. Place the roll in an oblong pan; pour the hot syrup over it and bake in a hot oven.

Punished For Eight Weeks

Flying License Suspended When British Pilot Broke Regulations

What is believed the first case in England of an aviator having his flying license suspended has been meted to Pilot Officer B. R. Ker, of South Wood, who made a solo flight from Newcastle to Oslo, Norway, and back in 11 hours five minutes. The flight was made in secrecy. Ker left Woolston Airport without passing through any Customs formalities. As this was a breach of regulations the War Ministry was obliged to take some form of action, but in recognition of Ker's enterprise and the value of his achievement, that action was applied in the mildest possible form, a withdrawal of his flying license for eight weeks.

BELIEVES CANADA GREATEST MINING AREA IN WORLD

Ottawa.—Belief Canada was the richest mineral area on earth which "our grandchildren's grandchildren will not exhaust," was expressed here by Lord Tweedsmuir, governor-general, to the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

Speaking at a dinner closing the three-day meeting of the institute, Lord Tweedsmuir said mining was no longer a gamble except in its first stage. It speedily becomes a highly organized business and an exact science. Up-to-date business methods and every new development in chemical and mechanical science were being used.

One feature about Canadian mining was that "In most mining areas—certainly in South Africa—the prospector, the man who did the pioneering work, did not reap the fruits of his labor. That was left to the capitalist who came after him, who never shared from his office chair. But here, not only has the prospector often made the big money, but he has stuck to it."

Mining problems were not new to him, the governor-general said. In South Africa after the war he was compelled to acquire at least a smattering of the question when the future of the gold industry of the Rand was under consideration.

In the few months he had been in Canada, he said, he had seen gold and copper mines in northern Ontario and asbestos mines of Thetford, Que. He hoped to see a great deal more.

"It is a wonderful piece of good fortune for Canada that in these difficult days, when agriculture all over the world is in straits and when normal industries are crippled, you should have found this new source of wealth, much of which can be as readily cashed as a Bank of England note."

Cattle Sales Increase

Heavier Marketing of Cattle in Western Canada

Toronto.—Heavier marketing of cattle in Western Canada has been shown by stock yard sales for the first 11 weeks of 1936. Alex. G. Hall, of Canada Packers Ltd., told the 18th annual meeting of the Eastern Canada Livestock Union here.

Exports to the United States of beef cattle also showed an increase over the same period of 1935 but shipments to the United Kingdom had fallen off from 4,781 head in 1935 to 1,765 up to March 12, 1936. Mr. Hall said.

Sales on stock yards, Mr. Hall said, for the period ending March 12 show a decrease of 12,478 head in Toronto and Montreal but an increase of 19,516 in the western markets. There had been an increase of 8,202 in shipments from the west to the east in that period.

Meeting in convention earlier the delegates decided to appoint a committee of five in addition to the union's president and secretary to co-operate with a committee from the Western Canada Livestock Union in gathering information and preparing it with respect to inter-empire trade pacts which will be reviewed in 1937.

Growing In Importance

Canada Going Ahead As Industrial Country States Massey

London.—Canada's growing importance as an industrial country was stressed by Hon. Vincent Massey, the Dominion's high commissioner to London, at a luncheon given by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in Great Britain.

He believed that between Canada and the United Kingdom "should form a practical demonstration between the two countries of their regard for and interest in each other," and lauded the economic progress in the Old Country.

Lady Shaughnessy Dies

Montreal.—Lady Shaughnessy, wife of Lord Shaughnessy, Montreal financier, is dead. Before her marriage she was Marion Laura Graham, daughter of the late R. K. Graham, Montreal, who was a brother of Lord Atholstan.

Roosevelt Asks For Billions

Washington.—Congressional leaders were told by President Roosevelt that he would require more than $1,000,000,000 to continue the work relief program for a full year beyond next July.

Committee Appointed

To Investigate Administration Of Radio Act Of 1932

Ottawa.—Operations of the Canadian Radio Commission and its administration of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Act of 1932 will be investigated by a special House of Commons committee of 23 members. Its membership will include 17 Liberals, 4 Conservatives, and one each for the C.C.F. and Social Credit groups.

Announcement of the committee personnel, together with an outline of its reference was made in a resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of marine.

The committee will "inquire into the operations of the Canadian Radio Commission and its administration of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Act of 1932 and amendments, and the regulations made under authority thereof; advise what, if any, changes shall be effected in the existing systems of radio broadcasting; and whether the said statutes and regulations should be amended in whole or in part, and what, if any, additions, should be made thereto; also inquire into the extent to which there has been any abuse of broadcasting privileges, either for political or advertising purposes, and to advise as to what principles should govern the regulations or control thereof."

Canadian Women Honored

Selected For Outstanding Achievements in Chosen Fields

New York.—Two Canadian women were among a group of 22 selected for outstanding achievement in varied fields who were honored here by the New York League of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women at a dinner.

They were Isabel Stewart, of Fletcher, Ont., and formerly of Mordean, Man., professor of nursing education at Columbia University, and Margaret Cubbert, of Prince Albert, Sask., who is director of women's activities for the National Broadcasting Company.

The program was part of a nationwide celebration of business women's week, inaugurated last year as an annual event to emphasize the importance of women in art, business and the professions.

Miss Stewart trained as a nurse in Winnipeg before going to New York. She is a sister of Dr. David Stewart, superintendent of Manitoba sanatoria.

King Edward Holds Levee

Several Canadian Officers Among Those Who Were Presented

London.—Two of the officers who represented Canada at the funeral of the late King George V. were presented to King Edward when His Majesty held a levee at Buckingham Palace March 18, the first full state function of his reign.

Captain V. G. Brodeur, of the Royal Canadian Navy, and Wing Commander S. G. Tuckwell, of the Royal Canadian Air Force, were presented along with a number of other officers of the armed forces of Canada, including Capt. Guy Simonds, Major James Hunter, Capt. K. G. McCullagh, Lieut. M. P. Joley, Lieut. J. A. Bennett and Lieut. A. B. Connolly.

Bishop W. T. Hallam, of Saskatoon, as well as Lester Pearson, first secretary of the Canadian high commissioner's office here, and Ross McLean, were also presented.

Heads Produce Association

W. A. Landreth Elected President Of Recently-Formed Body

Winnipeg.—W. A. Landreth, Winnipeg, was elected president of the recently-formed Canadian Produce Association at an executive meeting here.

J. W. Skelly, Calgary, was elected first vice-president, and F. Ironsides, Swift Current, Sask., was elected second vice-president.

Members on the executive include: J. S. Turnbull, Regina; M. Rudin, Canora, Sask.; A. J. Chorley, Moose Jaw; F. J. Heffernan, Calgary, and B. Walenberg and B. Stanley, Edmonton.

Court Issues Warrant

Chatham, Ont.—A distress bench warrant was issued by Magistrate S. B. Arnold to permit seizure of goods and chattels of Rev. T. Dobson, of Tilbury, rural dean of Kent, who a week ago told a jury a fine of $1 and $2.75 costs for not having a tail light on his automobile. 2143

Made Excellent Showing

Saskatchewan Youths Win In Judging Competitions At Brandon

Brandon.—Two Saskatchewan youths made an excellent showing in the students' judging competitions at the Manitoba winter fair here. In a class of more than 50, Jack Parker, of Togo, was among the winning five in four competitions, and Clifford Shirley, of Carlyle, collected prize money in two.

The competitions were held in conjunction with the agricultural short courses being conducted here during March by the Dominion Extension Service. Jack Parker came third in the swine and poultry judging class, fourth in the cattle class and fifth in the seed class. Clifford Shirley won second place in the swine class and fourth in the horse class.

Continuing Long Trip

Woman Starts Last Lap To Fairbanks With Dog Team

Tanana Crossing, Alaska.—Diminutive Mary Joyce, 27, and her five-dog team struck the snowy trails on the last 165 miles of her 1,000-mile mush from Taku to Fairbanks.

The Taku hunting lodge mistress, making the trip "just for the fun of it," was accompanied by an Indian guide. He will break trail as far as Big Delta, 91 miles from Fairbanks. She will travel the rest of the way alone, as she has most of the time since she left Taku, December 20.

EVOLVE PLAN TO SMOOTH OUT THE LOCARNO BREAK

London.—A French spokesman said that Locarno members have agreed tentatively on a plan to adjust German reoccupation of the Rhineland.

Informed French quarters said the provisional plan contains three points forming a compromise between the British and French viewpoints.

1. An appeal shall be made to the Hague court for decision on the Franco-Soviet mutual military assistance treaty.

2. Measures shall be taken to preserve the status of the Rhine zone pending arbitration with the possibility of an international force, perhaps British and Italian, to control the territory.

3. Guarantees of mutual assistance among remaining Locarno members in case of an attack.

The tentative agreement was reached at a session of Locarno representatives after the former allies had split on the German issue at a League of Nations council session.

Direct telephone contact will be established between the two cabinet sessions.

Not a dissenting voice was raised against the Franco-Belgian resolution formally branding Germany a treaty violator, but both Great Britain and Italy balked at sanctions against Germany, breaking with the other remaining Locarno members, France and Belgium.

KING IN UNIFORM

King Edward VIII. wore the uniform of the Welsh Guards when he attended the 21st anniversary celebrations of the regiment in London. We see him, above, entering the parade grounds.

Roads To Mines

Reasonable Access To Mining Properties To Be Provided

Ottawa.—Promise of reasonable access to mining properties by providing roads in co-operation with the Dominion department of mines and provincial departments was made here to the Institute of Mining and Metallurgy by Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of railways and canals.

Mining industry, he told an institute luncheon, had grown until it was of second importance in Canada as a producer of wealth. Dominion and Ontario mine departments were zealous in placing needs of the mining industry before the government.

He said the department of railways and canals was interested in transportation, railways, canals and to a smaller extent, highways and civil aviation.

His department had a program prepared and was ready to co-operate with the other departments in giving the miners reasonable access to their properties.

Deserter From Rhineland

Mulhouse, France.—The first deserter from Germany's new Rhineland army found a haven in France after swimming the Rhine. Exhausted by the pursuit of German sentries, who caught his companion, a youthful Reich soldier staggered up the bank into France near the Huningue railway bridge.

BRITISH FLIER WINS COVETED TROPHY

Jean Batten, generally conceded to be the most daring and accomplished aviator among the fair sex, is shown above with the coveted International Trophy which she has just been awarded for her solo flight over the South Atlantic Ocean. Miss Batten has made several solo flights across Europe and Asia and has set several long distance flight records.

Plebiscite Proposed

Would Take Referendum Of People Before Engaging In War

Winnipeg.—A resolution proposing a plebiscite before Canada enters any war except in the case of invasion of the Dominion will be submitted to the Dominion convention of the Canadian Legion at Vancouver by the Winnipeg and district command.

The resolution was passed at the district meeting with representatives of 20 branches in attendance. They represented a membership of 3,000 war veterans.

The referendum, the resolution proposed, should be submitted to the whole population of adult age. In the event of a declaration of war after the referendum, the resolution proposed all adult citizens of both sexes shall be conscripted to the extent of being paid only the basis of pay and allowance as soldiers.

Manufacture of munitions of arms and all war equipment should be taken over by the government permanently in order to prevent private profit, the resolution declared.

Employment For Veterans

Commission Will Be Set Up To Assist In Matter

Ottawa.—Establishment of a Veterans Assistance Commission to assist, among other things, in obtaining employment for veterans, is provided for in a government resolution placed on the order paper of the House of Commons by Hon. C. G. Power, minister of pensions and national health.

The pensions minister has also given notice of legislation amending the War Veterans' Allowance Act so as to give special consideration to veterans of 55 and over but not yet 60 who are unable to maintain themselves.

Sees Better Tourist Season

C.P.R. Official Predicts Increase In Passenger Traffic

Winnipeg.—Indications for a much better tourist season throughout Canada and for better railway passenger business are observed by C. B. Foster, passenger traffic manager for the Canadian Pacific Railway system, who spent a day in Winnipeg in conference with N. R. Desbriay, assistance passenger traffic manager, and other western lines officials. Mr. Foster left for the Pacific coast and on his return expects to have even more glowing reports to make of the general travel situation.

TAKE STEPS TO MAKE CHANGES IN THE B.N.A. ACT

Ottawa.—Prime Minister Mackenzie King has given notice of the first steps his government will take toward amending the constitution in line with plans already announced.

Two amendments will be sought, by means of a joint petition from the senate and commons to the king. One will make constitutional the imposition of indirect taxation by the provinces on luxury, amusement and entertainment. The other will give constitutional authority to Finance Minister Dunning's proposed new basis of dominion-provincial financial relations.

Throughout the years since the war there has grown up in the Dominion schedules of purely provincial taxes on commodities of the luxury class, on amusements and in some instances on hotel and restaurant patronage.

These taxes have been collected under the constant possibility that embarrassment might be caused if the province's constitutional right to collect them were challenged in the courts.

It is now proposed to add to section 92 of the B.N.A., the section that deals with particular rights of the provinces, a clause giving provinces indirect taxation rights in respect of retail commodities other than beverages and tobacco and other than those articles sold for delivery outside the provinces; also in respect of patronage of hotels, restaurants, places of amusement and entertainment.

With respect to Dominion-provincial financing the amendment sought will empower the Dominion to guarantee provincial loans and to take from the provinces specific security in the form of collateral such as securities annually paid the provinces from the Dominion treasury.

WOULD CURTAIL ANY INCREASE IN COAL PRODUCTION

Ottawa.—Curtalement for the next five years of development work designed to increase production was urged on the Alberta government in the report of Sir Montague Harlow, English expert, who investigated the province's coal industry last fall.

Sir Montague, in the course of recommendations calling for increased subsidies, fixed freight rates for a period of five years, improved marketing and working conditions and publicity, advised the government to refuse, save in exceptional circumstances, to grant new leases of mineral areas during the period suggested.

Hon. C. C. Ross, Alberta minister of lands and mines, in the course of a paper read before a meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, made public a summary of the report. Sir Montague came to Canada last fall under an arrangement entered into by the former United Farmer Government of Alberta which was replaced by the Social Credit administration before the inquiry opened.

Coal, natural gas and petroleum, are the principal mineral resources of Alberta, constituting 91 per cent of the total. Coal production is increasing, Mr. Ross said, the output in 1935 being 5,462,973 tons, an increase of 13 per cent over the previous year.

Of the total output 28 per cent is consumed within the province, 13.7 per cent in other provinces, 36.9 per cent sold to railways, and the remainder processed into briquettes with a small amount exported to United States.

The Barlow report urged the provincial government not only to refuse new coal leases for the next five years but to make arrangements with those now holding undeveloped mineral areas releasing them from the obligation of starting active operations within a specified time, and that taxes should be remitted on such holdings in return for the promise not to enter production.

These restrictions would not apply to bona fide development of existing mines which would be carried out in the ordinary course of mine operations.

May Set Up Harbor Board

Would Replace Commission Control Of Leading Canadian Ports

Ottawa.—Statutory confirmation of the central harbors board set up last fall to replace the commission control of the seven leading Canadian ports is provided in a bill presented to the House of Commons by Hon. C. D. Howe, minister of marine.

A body to be known as "the national harbors board," clothed with wide powers and financed by the Dominion government, is contemplated in the measure. The board will control at once the harbors of Halifax, Saint John, Chicoutimi, Quebec, Three Rivers, Montreal and Vancouver. Other harbors may come under its jurisdiction later.

Early Start On Land

Alberta Town Sets Record With First Official Report

Winnipeg, Man.—Barnwell, Alberta, sets this year's record for the first official report of work on the land, according to a message received by the agricultural department of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"Spring cultivation and plowing are becoming general at this point on the Lethbridge division of the C.P.R., just five miles from Taber, which has held the record for some years. First reports in 1935 came from Taber on March 21.

No plowing is reported on the prairie.

Sailor Killed By Explosion

Gibraltar.—A British sailor was killed and eight others, including an officer, were injured when an unexpected explosion occurred aboard the 1,100-ton destroyer Westcott, during fleet exercises in the Straits of Gibraltar. Authorities declined to give further details of the accident. All the injured were placed in a military hospital here.

Mounties' Horses For Sale

Regina.—The regular spring "cast, eight horses owned by the Mounted Police will be sold at public auction late in April," has been announced. Whether any purchases will be made to replace the horses has not been decided.
